

KID Museum Manager of Communications

About KID Museum

KID Museum is the nation's largest educational makerspace for youth. Our mission is to revolutionize how kids learn through the maker experience. Through hands-on programming and deep learning experiences, we empower youth with the creative problem-solving and STEM skills to invent the future. With a focus on engaging populations traditionally underrepresented in STEM, our programs aim to build economic opportunity and diversify the future talent pipeline.

Our vision is to become the standard of excellence for inclusive, impactful maker learning nationally, and a model for how to expand access to maker learning at scale. Our headquarters in the Washington, DC region serves as our innovation hub. In partnership with local school systems, government and philanthropic leaders, we design and deliver K-12 programs that produce results at scale in a large and diverse metropolitan region. We leverage the learnings from this learning lab to create resources, training, and technical support to expand high-impact maker learning nationally. Position Overview

KID Museum is seeking a Manager of Communications who will be responsible for implementing a variety of communications activities and campaigns, with the goal of raising awareness of KID Museum's mission, impact, and program offerings. The incumbent will lead efforts to make KID Museum's work accessible, engaging, and relevant to a wide range of audiences, including educators, funders, families, researchers, policymakers, and other thought leaders. The work will focus on communication and engagement, positioning KID Museum as a national leader advancing equity and innovation through maker learning.

The Manager of Communications will work closely with the Senior Director of Communications to implement a strategic communications plan that elevates the regional and national profile of KID Museum as a transformational leader in education innovation; articulates the impact KID Museum programs have on students, families, and educators; and amplifies KID Museum's "Mind of a Maker" framework and its equity-driven approach to maker learning.

The successful candidate will have a Bachelor's degree, or equivalent work experience, and 5 - 7 years of communications experience; an interest in K-12 education; and a commitment to access, equity, and inclusion. Prior experience adapting messaging and writing for a variety of audiences is required. Strong writing and storytelling ability, with close attention to detail, is required. Experience managing social media accounts is a plus. Fluency in Spanish and/or other languages is a plus.

The candidate must be able to perform the role independently, accurately, reliably, and in a timely manner. Compensation will be commensurate with experience. A comprehensive benefits package will also be included. Please send a cover letter and resume to careers@kid-museum.org for consideration.

Diversity, equity, accessibility and inclusion are important, interdependent components of everyday life at KID Museum and are critical to our pursuit of excellence. KID Museum is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment based on race, color, religion, national origin, age, gender, sex, ancestry, citizenship status, mental or physical disability, genetic information, sexual orientation, veteran status, or military status.
